

Students

Links for Students

Educational Links

Educational Resources - A great listing of educational resources maintained by the House of Representatives.

e-Scholar - This website created by the Office of Personnel Management (OPM) is a great resource for finding information on more than 400 Federally-funded opportunities to further your education and real-world experiences. Links include information on grants, internships, fellowships, scholarships, and cooperative education programs.

Free Application For Student Aid (FAFSA) - File your FAFSA application for higher education financial aid electronically from this website.

Internet Public Library - A great site that provides many useful tools for research including an "ask a question" feature, a teen collection and a dictionary, as well as sections on references, arts and humanities, science and technology, and education.

National Middle School Science Bowl -- An annual academic competition for students in Grades 6-8.

State of California Department of Education - Learn more about our state's education policies.

U.S. Department of Education - The website of the federal agency responsible for setting policy, administering funds and coordinating federal assistance for education.

Virtual Reference Desk - Offers dozens of links to dictionaries, encyclopedias, research materials, thesauruses, atlases, sports, entertainment, and much more.

Government Resources

Americorps - Get more information about this network of national service programs that engage more than 50,000 Americans each year in intensive service to meet critical needs in education, public safety, health, and the environment.

Constitution of the United States - Read the words our nation's fathers wrote that created the government we know today.

Legislative Research - A wealth of information about bills and resolutions being considered in the Congress, as well as current information about what's happening on the House floor and about how individual Members voted on specific measures.

Library of Congress - The Library serves as the research arm of Congress and is recognized as the national library of the United States.

How Our Laws Are Made - This publication written by the Parliamentarian of the House of Representatives describes the procedures of Congress.

Tying it All Together - A summary explanation of how the legislative process works.

Peace Corps - Learn more about this international volunteer organization created by President Kennedy and authorized by Congress in 1961 to "promote world peace and friendship."

USAGov - a website that helps navigate through our nation's government and a great place to start when you don't know where to go.

The White House - The website of our nation's executive branch.

##