

Politico: Which districts are happiest?

On Tuesday, March 10, the Politico published an article about a recent Gallup survey that found the 14th Congressional District the "most content" in the nation. Residents of the 14th Congressional District also had the highest job satisfaction in the nation, according to the survey. To read the full article, click here.